Public-Sector Solutions' Municipal Technology Summit "A Big Success."

Public-Sector Solutions (Falls Church, VA) organized the first in a series of government Microsoft-based technology events, Municipal Technology Summits. The first was held April 5, at The Microsoft Government Offices in Washington, DC. "I am very happy with the event and its turn out," said Duane Flowers, who was onsite to demonstrate Hansen Information Technologies products. In total 65 decision makers from local government throughout Maryland and Virginia registered. "Today we are demonstrating the innovative technologies we have partnered with to implement total Enterprise Solutions for government," said Baris Vural, the event moderator from Public-Sector Solutions. "In one day, attendees are able to view and learn about a range of solutions to bolster their ability to develop an effective IT strategic plan."

Public-Sector Solutions recently branded their Government Enterprise Series, which partners and integrates USL Financials - accounting and procurement solutions, with Hansen Information Technologies for Billing, Asset Management, and Constituent Services and rounds out the total solution with PDS Software's advanced Human Resource and Payroll suite. "We feel that it is important for government leaders see these cost-effective Microsoft-based solutions. These events provide them with a rare opportunity to see a full enterprise solution as a whole," said Baris Vural.

The attendees all agreed that this was a valuable event, and consistently rated presenters and the technologies from good to excellent. It is suspected the next time they are looking for technology solutions they will refer to this event and the partners who presented for answers.
