Public-Sector Solutions Continues to be a Top Technology Provider for Research Institutes.

Public-Sector Solutions (Falls Church, VA) continues to dramatically enhance the financial management at Research Institutes across the nation. "Public-Sector Solutions is in the business of implementing innovative technology for the public sector. Research Institutes happen to be a niche that we serve especially well, with technology that has been practically developed by the clients," said Maurice Giguere, VP of Sales and Marketing. "Research Institute operations require sophisticated financial management. We are happy to implement systems that meet these demands." Nearly a quarter of the USL Financials systems implemented today are in Research Institutes, and it is these clients that have driven the development of the USL Financials' Labor Distribution and Project Accounting Modules.

The flexibility of the USL Financials Suite provides IT and finance staff a product that is able to be tuned to meet exacting management demands. USL Financials operates entirely on Microsoft's reliable and efficient technology, which makes learning and maintaining the system a mere task rather than a chore. Research institute staff often desire a highly developed product that they can be easily customized to precisely match their needs. USL Financials includes the source code and provides personal support to help to all clients achieve a robust system with tremendous functionality. Providing the sophisticated management technology customers demand is the power of Public-Sector Solutions working for customers.
